MADISON'S STORY

Madison, age 11, with classic PKU, loved her scoop-n-mix formula, but could not tolerate the ill side effects of her "milk".

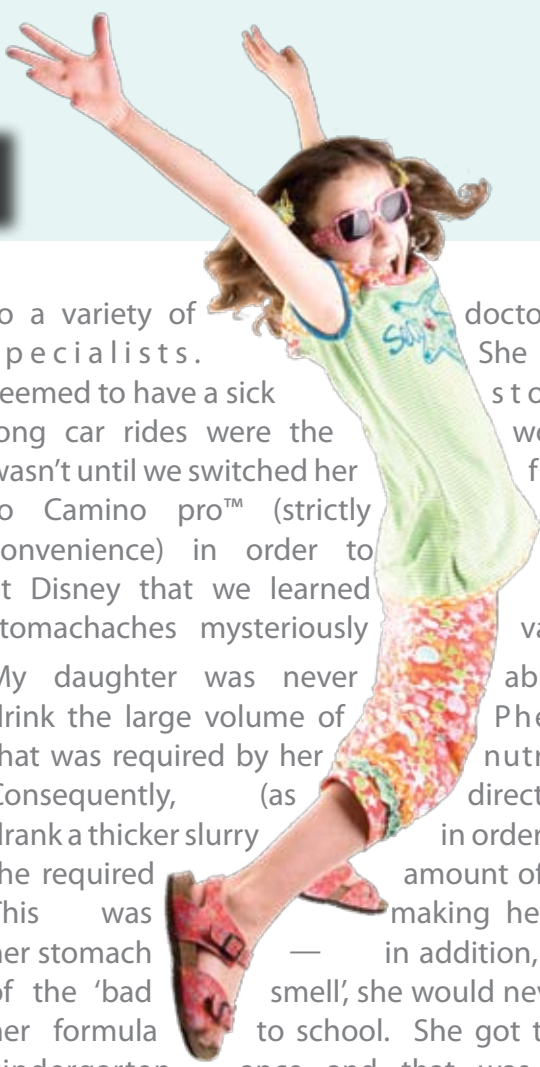

Madison: "I love the taste and when I get really thirsty, a cold Camino pro™ cools my thirst. I like the cool design of the colorful pouches and my mother likes the spill-proof spout."

"I no longer have stomach pain that happened from my old formula...I don't mind taking my Camino pro™ Fruit Punch to school."

Madison

Madison's mom: "I have two children with PKU, one who hated his formula since day-one and the other who loved her formula but couldn't tolerate the ill side effects of her 'milk'. My daughter, now 11 years old always enjoyed drinking her scoop and mix drink but suffered from chronic stomachaches. Never realizing the pain could be associated with her life sustaining 'milk', she was back and forth to a variety of doctors and specialists. She always seemed to have a sick stomach; long car rides were the worst. It wasn't until we switched her formula to Camino pro™ (strictly for convenience) in order to vacation at Disney that we learned her stomachaches mysteriously vanished. My daughter was never able to drink the large volume of Phenex®-2 that was required by her nutritionist. Consequently, (as directed) she drank a thicker slurry in order to get in the required amount of protein. This was making her sick to her stomach — in addition, because of the 'bad smell', she would never bring her formula to school. She got teased in kindergarten once and that was enough embarrassment for her. Camino pro™ has made the most positive change in our family's outlook with regard to my children's formula. They're both enjoying the Camino pro™ assortment of formula products and they're even taking them to school!"

MARK'S STORY

Mark, age 42, with classic PKU, recently returned to diet and began using Camino pro™ in May 2008. This follows 30 years of being off diet and losing control of his blood phe levels. Mark suffered from anxiousness, depression, stuttering, and the inability to focus.

Mark: "I first started Camino pro™ back in May 2008 when I was first getting back on diet. I did not know what formula I wanted to work with, but I did need to have the formula portable and premeasured. It also needed to have a pleasant taste. Before starting the Camino pro™ system, my blood phe levels came back at 29! In just two weeks, these levels dropped to 9 — my best report in years — and my latest level was 7! My energy has been good, along with my mood and weight. I have noticed better concentration as well at work, and better memory. My coworkers and boss complimented me on my performance, positive attitude and energy level too. I love the taste, portability, ease of taking, and the fact that the product makes me feel better keeps me with it."

"You guys are awesome and I'm determined to keep control of my diet with Camino pro™. It's pretty easy too; I actually like the taste and convenience." Mark

ISABELLA'S STORY

Isabella, age 22, with PKU and pregnant, could no longer tolerate the gritty texture of her old formula.

Isabella: "I was on Phlexy-10® before, which was fine for when I wasn't pregnant, but it is really gritty and I couldn't drink it anymore after I became pregnant.

Camino pro™ is much better because it is not gritty and doesn't have a bad aftertaste. Plus, it is so easy to shake it up and drink it.

"Overall, Camino pro™ is better for me in terms of tolerance, ease of use, and convenience when traveling." Isabella

My mood is better now that I am on Camino pro™, because I am now able to get all of my formula down – I feel much clearer. The variety is great!"

Isabella's dietician: "This patient was having nausea due to morning sickness. She was really struggling with the taste and gritty texture of her formula. She states Camino pro™ makes it much easier for her to meet her PKU formula needs.

I would recommend Camino pro™ to other patients. It is nice for people who must consume amino acid supplements daily to have a variety of product flavors and forms to choose from. The older children, teens and adults who have taste fatigue and do not like their traditional formulas would benefit most from the Camino pro™ system."

AIDAN'S STORY

Aidan, age 25, with PKU, felt encumbered by having to lug around his "tin" can of scoop-n-mix formula.

Aidan: "I used to be on PhenylAde™. It didn't taste good and was very inconvenient to carry a tin can everywhere. Yes, it is easier to stay on diet with Camino pro™. I use the Pina Colada Drink and the Balsamic Vinaigrette Sauce/Dressing. It's nice that they are pre-mixed and ready-to-go.

I have been on diet all of my life and in good control. I am still in good control now that I am taking Camino pro™."

"I chose Camino pro™ because it looked like it would taste better, the packaging was better, and it seemed more convenient. Now that I am on Camino pro™, it is in fact better tasting and more convenient."

HALEY'S STORY

Haley, age 23, with PKU, had a difficult time drinking her former scoop-n-mix formula and lacked energy.

Haley: "With other formulas, I had a hard time getting used to the taste. With Camino pro™ it has been simple because it tastes much better. My energy level has improved since I started taking Camino pro™ and I have more energy when I get to the gym after work. There is nothing I would change about the Camino pro™ system. Everything works out really well."

Haley's mom: "Haley has always been on diet and in good control. She used to take Phenyl-Free® prior to switching to Camino pro™. It was most difficult in the teenage years trying to get her to drink her 'milk', especially when her friends started commenting that it smelled bad and she became self-conscious of that and didn't want to drink it.

"I chose Camino pro™ because it tasted better than other formulas and it fits my lifestyle easier ... it is easier to follow my diet when I go to work or on vacation."

Haley

She works all day and then goes to the gym after work. Before starting Camino pro™ she was dragging after such a long day – felt like she was lacking energy. Now that she's on Camino pro™, she feels she has much more energy. It's so convenient – you just shake a drink pouch – it's incredible!"

RYAN'S STORY

Ryan, age 16, with classic PKU, could not tolerate his formula since he was a baby.

Ryan: "The diet/formula routine for me, bluntly speaking, is all about convenience and getting the job done immediately so I can move on with my day."

Ryan's mom: "From the time my son was a baby, he could not tolerate his formula. I struggled with him everyday to consume his daily protein supplement. If the taste wasn't bad enough, the huge volume was more than he could suffer. His difficulty affected the whole family for the first 15 years of his life.

High school was a turning point. The early hours, academic rigor, and the refusal to consume any formula at school, resulted in near exhaustion.

Thanks to Camino pro™, Ryan regained the energy he lacked. Ryan recognizes his improved outlook and leaves each morning with two Camino pro™ Drinks in his pack."

"Camino pro™ provides an assortment of quick, portable, and tasteful options to get my nutrition obligation done now!" Ryan
